

My Role in the Team

GOALS MONTH 3

- You can name your current role(s) in the team with concrete examples
- You understand why role clarity contributes to team cohesion and personal motivation
- You formulate one concrete contribution you want to strengthen in the coming months

You don't have one role in a team. You have several, and they change. This worksheet helps you discover which roles you fulfill and which you want to develop.

EXERCISE 1 — ROLE COMPASS1 Role Compass

Give yourself a score from 0 to 10 for each of the four roles.

Leader

Gives direction, addresses the group

Score: ____/10

Engine

Gives energy, pulls the team along

Score: ____/10

Thinker

Analyzes, asks questions, finds solutions

Score: ____/10

Stable Force

Reliable, consistent, support for others

Score: ____/10

My strongest role is _____ because:

EXERCISE 2 — MY TOP 3 CONTRIBUTIONS2 My Top 3 Contributions This Month

No statistics — write three things you contributed in terms of behavior, attitude, or character.

1

2

3

Which contribution do I want to strengthen next month?

EXERCISE 3 — ROLE CIRCLE REFLECTION

3 After the Role Circle

After the group exercise: what surprised you? Which contribution from a teammate did you not expect?

Which role do I want to consciously take on more in the coming weeks?

TEAM REFLECTION

What does this team need from me this season that I'm not giving enough yet?

MENTAL RESILIENCE — ROLE FOCUS

Write one specific action you will consciously take next week to strengthen your role. Make it concrete enough to evaluate afterward.

"Individual commitment to a group effort — that is what makes a team work, a company work, a society work, a civilization work."

— Vince Lombardi — 5× NFL Champion Coach
