

Resilience & Growth Mindset

Character First

GOALS MONTH 6

- You distinguish a fixed mindset reaction from a growth mindset reaction in yourself
- You rewrite at least one negative self-thought into a learning-oriented formulation
- You name three concrete ways you have grown this season compared to yourself

How you deal with setbacks and mistakes determines how far you go in sports and in life. A growth mindset is not innate — you can train it.

EXERCISE 1 — REWRITE THE MISTAKE

1 Rewrite the Mistake

Write down a recent mistake or setback. Then rewrite every "I can't" thought to "I can't yet" and add what you learn from it.

De situatie of fout:

WHAT I THOUGHT (fixed)

HOW I REWRITE IT (growth)

What is the biggest insight I take from this?

EXERCISE 2 — PROGRESS LIST

2 3 Things I Can Do Better Than Last Month

No comparison with others. Only with yourself. Write three concrete things and explain how you trained or developed them.

EXERCISE 3 — HARDEST MOMENT

3 Mijn Hardest Moment dit Seizoen

Describe the hardest moment of this season. What did you do? What did you learn? How did you become stronger?

What was the moment?

How did I respond, and what did I learn from it?

"I have missed more than 9,000 shots in my career. I have failed over and over again in my life. And that is why I succeed."

Michael Jordan — 6× NBA Champion
