

SESSION 2 — COACH

Our Team Contract

Making agreements that matter

COACH OBJECTIVE

Coaches guide the team in creating concrete behavioral agreements. The team contract is signed by all players and becomes the reference point for the rest of the season.

COACH NOTE

Let the team formulate the rules themselves — ownership is crucial. Your role: ensure agreements are specific and behavior-oriented, not vague. "We respect each other" is too vague. "We listen until the coach finishes speaking" is concrete.

ACTIVITIES1 What worked, what didn't?

⌚ 10 min

Discuss last season (or training so far): What behavior made the team stronger? What behavior cost energy or trust? Write answers in two columns on the board.

2 Formulating agreements

⌚ 15 min

Groups of 3 each formulate 2 agreements based on the previous step. Plenary: select the 6–8 strongest agreements together. Check: are they specific enough?

3 Sign & commit

⌚ 5 min

Print or write out the contract. Everyone — including you as coach — signs it. Keep it and hang it visibly.

NOTES

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

- What will you do if someone doesn't follow an agreement?
- How do you hold each other accountable without punishing?
- What is your personal commitment to this contract?

CLOSING

Read the full contract aloud. Ask each player briefly: "What is your personal pledge?" Close with a team ritual (clap, chant, circle — something that is yours).

NOTES

"Agreements, not rules. Rules you enforce. Agreements you honor."

— Atul Gawande