

COACH PRESENTATION

Trust and safety

The foundation of a strong team

GOAL OF THIS SESSION

You create conditions where players feel safe to make mistakes, be honest and be vulnerable. Psychological safety is the strongest predictor of team performance.

COACH NOTE

Show vulnerability yourself: share a moment when you made a mistake and what you learned. If the coach can do this, so can the players. Watch for players who stay silent and check in with them individually afterwards.

SESSION OVERVIEW

1

Trust meter

5 min

2

Mistakes as learning moments

15 min

3

Adding trust agreements

10 min

Trust meter

🕒 5 min · Exercise 1/3

Players anonymously give a number from 1 to 10: how safe do I feel to make mistakes?
Collect, calculate the average, discuss.

Mistakes as learning moments

🕒 15 min • Exercise 2/3

Everyone shares one sports moment when they made a mistake and what they learned. The coach goes first. Emphasis: no judgment, no laughter, only listening.

Adding trust agreements

🕒 10 min · Exercise 3/3

Add two safety agreements to the team contract. For example: we do not respond negatively to mistakes during training, and we discuss problems internally, not on social media.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

- ? When did you feel unsafe in a team? What was the effect?
- ? What can you do to make it safer for others?
- ? How does this team respond when someone makes a big mistake in a game?

CLOSING

Close with a commitment round: each player says one thing they will do to make the team safer. Write it on the board and photograph it.

CHARACTERFirst

“

"Vulnerability is not weakness. It is our greatest measure of courage."

Brené Brown